台北國際汽機車零配件展覽會

AUTOTRONICS TAIPEI

台北國際車用電子展覽會

One of the largest automotive trade shows in Asia – TAIPEI AMPA, AUTOTRONICS TAIPEI, and 2035 E-Mobility Taiwan 3-in-1 mega show, will be the annual industry event that presents a comprehensive range of exhibitors from automotive and motorcycle aftermarket parts, automotive electronics, to hardware, software, and peripherals for electric and autonomous vehicles, and electric vehicles.

Taking place from April 12 to 15 in Taipei, the upcoming 2023 TAIPEI AMPA will focus on the latest automotive ecosystem developments, including a look into what the future of the road looks like. TAIPEI AMPA will continue to feature automobile and motorcycle parts and accessories, as well as a glimpse of producer's customizing services capable of producing parts for different models around the world. New this year is that TAIPEI AMPA will be held along with AUTOTRONICS TAIPEI and 2035 E-Mobility Taiwan, presenting the entire industry's present and future under one roof. Along with exhibited products, many forums, seminars, and startup activities will also combine knowledge and experience as the industry moves forward.

Sourcing for AM and OEM Parts?

While the global automotive industry had a dip in production, Taiwan saw a 30% increase in exports based on its ability to customize parts and a heavy investment in smart production, with the United States as the largest exporting nation.

In addition, this increase coincides with a rise in demand for motorcycle and its related products, and TAIPEI AMPA will also expand its motorcycle exhibits to accommodate this trend.

The Pioneer of E-Mobility

Taiwan is not only known for the high-quality custom manufacturing and OEM automotive aftermarket parts, but also has a strong R&D ability of ICT industry, where you can find the suppliers of Tesla, Rivian, Lucid and Fisker. To focus on trends of C.A.S.E (Connectivity, Autonomous, Shared and Electrified), 2023 Taipei AMPA, AUTOTRONICS TAIPEI and 2035 E-Mobility Taiwan, three shows consolidate IoV, EV, 5G and C-V2X as highlights, displaying the future to the automotive industry transformation.
