Based on U.S. import data for 2022, the top fastening tool category imported by the U.S.A from the world was HS 8207 Interchangeable Tools for Hand Tools Or Machine Tools at an import value of USD 3,149 million.

The U.S.A imported hand-operated spanners and wrenches (HS code 8204) mostly from Taiwan, China, India, Vietnam, Germany, in which Taiwan was the largest source for the U.S.A. In the same logic, the U.S.A. imported hand tools, blow torches, anvils (HS 8205) mostly from China, Taiwan, India, Mexico, Vietnam, in which China was the top source. The U.S.A imported interchangeable tools for hand tools or machine tools (HS 8207) mostly from China, Germany, Japan, Canada, South Korea, in which China again was the top source. All three categories were growing from 2020 to 2022 in terms of import from the world by the U.S.A, which tells this nation has an increasing demand for fastening tools.

Regarding export, the top fastening tool category exported from the U.S.A to the world was also HS 8207 interchangeable tools for hand tools or machine tools at an export value of USD 2,188 million.

The U.S.A exported HS code 8204 mostly to Canada, Mexico, Japan, Australia, UK, in that order. For HS 8205, they were Canada, Mexico, UK, Australia, and Germany. For HS 8207, they were Canada, Mexico, Netherlands, Germany, and China. All the three categories were growing from 2020 to 2022 in export which explains that the world had increased demand for the American fastening tools over the past three years.

In import, the first thing you will be noticing is that China and Taiwan remained the most significant source of fastening tools for EU across all categories, where HS 820411 non-adjustable hand-operated spanners, wrenches, and parts were the most imported category into EU at an import quantity of 39,019,565 kilograms. India, Japan, Switzerland and Vietnam were competing for the third place in the ranking across all categories. All categories were growing over the past three years.

Regarding export, the U.S. and UK mostly remained the top destinations for EU's fastening tools, where HS 820411 non-adjustable hand-operated spanners, wrenches, and parts again were the most exported category from EU at an export quantity of 5,581,672 kilograms. 3rd place to 10th place were sporadically filled by different countries across all categories. All categories were growing over the past three years. These categories were generally fluctuating in the past three years, except for HS 820412 adjustable hand-operated spanners, wrenches, and parts which were growing in quantity as well as HS 820420 screwdrivers and parts which were decreasing in quantity on to 2022.
